

Above—Gen. Sir Henry Wilson, new British chief of staff (right), and Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, leaving the Interallied War Conference at Versailles.
Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

At Left—The old and the new. Gen. Allenby (arrow), conqueror of the Palestine, in a modern automobile leaving Jerusalem by the ancient Jaffa Gate.

Photo British Official. Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

David Baird, the new United States Senator from New Jersey. Gov. Edge named him to fill the unexpired term of the late William Hughes.

Photo Bain News Service.

An air squadron just before departure on a trip over the German lines. This particular British unit has accounted for many Hun planes.

British Official Photo, Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

A German grenade base in allied hands. Its capture was effected during a recent engagement in which the French drove the Germans from their first lines near Crapeaumesnil in the Somme district. There was a vast supply of the deadly missiles and the poilus grabbed the whole lot. Note the German signpost.

Copyright, Committee on Public Information, from International Film.

The rules of the British War Office prevent the publication of the names of these two members of the Royal Flying Corps, but they are "aces" and among the best known of their craft. They are here donning their "togs" preparatory to going on a nocturnal bombing expedition.

British Official Photo, Copyright Underwood & Underwood.